

DEPTH OF DECEPTION

A TITANIC MURDER MYSTERY

Dark secrets buried with TITANIC suddenly resurface!

Finalist in the E-Book: Mystery/Thriller/Adventure category of the 2012 International Book Awards

Finalist in the E-Book: Best E-book Fiction category of the 2012 USA Book Awards

It is 1982, and a young woman in Edwardian clothing is found floating unconscious in the North Atlantic with a ticket for the RMS Titanic.

Is it a bizarre case of time-travel that links her to an unsolved murder from 1909, or an elaborate hoax?

Depth of Deception is a historical thriller inspired by a 1990 tabloid headline: Titanic Survivor Found on Iceberg, with incorporated elements of a true unsolved murder from turn-of-the-century Glasgow.

“Alexander Galant has created a thrilling murder mystery: One with countless cliff-hangers and suspense, but no foreshadowing that could hint to what will happen next.”

- Yaneli Gonzalez (Sun Sentinel, Florida)

“I more than enjoyed it. I couldn't stop reading it... It was wonderful, and if I say anything else I'll ruin it.”

- Rebecca Graf (A Book Lover's Library)

About the Author:

Alexander Galant is a Canadian, residing in Toronto. He was the historical researcher for the novel Dracula the Un-Dead, which was on the New York Times Best Seller list in October 2009. Alexander also adapted the novel into a dramatic stage reading for the Toronto book launch of Dracula the Un-Dead, which brought out the highest turnout for any event on the book tour. Alexander's short story, Remember Me is a part of the Starship Goodwords anthology by Carrick Publishing, and his other short story, Same Crime Tomorrow is currently available on Amazon. He was recently the Featured Author on Polka Dot Banner.

Alexander has also written and directed several short films which have received awards in film festivals all over the world, including a Silver Remi at WorldFest Houston for his Suspense-Thriller The Missing Piece.
